Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Protection Under the Guise of Free-Trade as Practised by Great Britain and Ireland Compared With Protection as Practised by the United States of America Lord salisbury, when addressing the Chamber of Commerce in Manchester on the 17th of October last, as reported by the London Morning Post, said, Everywhere we see arising around us a thick wall of protection cutting off the avenues of commerce. This increase in protection is due not only to faulty theories. If that were the case we might hope that the Spreading of a sounder doctrine and the increase of communications would induce people and governments to give up theories of which the hollowness has been proved. The real cause of the increase of protective duties is the establishment of those great military forces which are increasing every year in every one of the larger countries of this hemisphere, which constitute a permanent drain on the forces of industry, a prominent danger to the interests of commerce, and which impose upon the governments which feel themselves bound to maintain these forces the necessity...
