Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .What are the disruptive Wearables technologies that enable our organization to radically change our business processes? Which individuals, teams or departments will be involved in Wearables? How do mission and objectives affect the Wearables processes of our organization? Meeting the Challenge: Are Missed Wearables opportunities Costing you Money? Who will be responsible for making the decisions to include or exclude requested changes once Wearables is underway? Defining, designing, creating, and implementing a process to solve a business challenge or meet a business objective is the most valuable role. In EVERY company, organization and department. Unless you are talking a one-time, single-use project within a business, there should be a process. Whether that process is managed and implemented by humans, AI, or a combination of the two, it needs to be designed by someone with a complex enough perspective to ask the right questions. Someone capable of asking the right questions and step back and say, What are we really trying to accomplish here? And is there a different way to look at it? For more than twenty years, The Art of Service s Self-Assessments empower people who can do just that - whether their title is marketer, entrepreneur, manager, salesperson, consultant, business process manager, executive assistant, IT Manager, CxO etc. - they are the people who rule the future. They are people who watch the process as it happens, and ask the right questions to make the process work better. This book is for managers, advisors, consultants, specialists, professionals and anyone interested in Wearables assessment. Featuring 609 new and updated case-based questions, organized into seven core areas of process design, this Self-Assessment will help you identify areas in which Wearables improvements can...
