Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Desalting State of the Art Man has known for centuries that water could be obtained from the salty oceans. Only in recent times has the need stimulated commercial development of desalting processes and studies of the economics of large-capacity desalting plants utilizing the energy from the atom. This bulletin is the first of a series concerned with the state of the art of desalting published by the Department of Water Resources for the information of the State Legislature, the California Water Commission, organizations and the public interested in the prospects of desalting for California. The Legislature authorized a departmental program in desalting in 1957. Since that time, the Department has issued two bulletins on desalting (No. 93 Saline Water Demineralization and Nuclear Energy in the California Water Plan, December 1960; and No. 134-62, Saline Water Conversion Activities in California, August 1963). In 1965, by the passage of the Cobey - Porter Saline Water Conversion Law (Water Code Section 12945-12949), the Legislature emphasized its intent that the Department should attempt to find economic and efficient methods...
