Not illustrated. 1922 Excerpt: .in this direction among mechanics and general mill help, and found that the most suitable division for factory purposes is on the basis of an allowance of one inch for five letters or figures, with spaces 5/16 inch high. For records filled out by office employes seven letters or figures per inch, with spaces inch high, is more suitable. The record under discussion will be filled out by mechanics. Therefore, the spacing can be as follows: For the Date 1 inch line; for Department 2 inch line; for Quantity inch line; for Item 4 inch double line; for name of foreman, lj4 inch line. Printed type should not be smaller than 1/16 inch in height. Too much stress can hardly be placed on the necessity of thoughtful and careful record construction, since nearly ninety per cent of the failure of modern mill records can be laid...

Reviews

Extensive information! Its this type of excellent study. I have read and i am sure that i will gonna go through yet again once more down the road. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
